How Many Hairs on a Grizzly Bear? And Other Big Questions about Numbers

by Tracey Turner, illustrated by Jen Khatun

An original approach to math by stealth that makes the tricky concept of really big numbers fun and easy to understand.

How Many Hairs On a Grizzly Bear? And Other Big Questions about Numbers* introduces children to a world of fascinating information about the infinite world of numbers.

Through vibrant, playful illustrations and fact-packed but witty text, the book explores the answers to questions such as "How many leaves on an oak tree?", "How many stars in the Milky Way?", and "How many stones in the Great Pyramid of Giza?", and covers a wide range of subjects, including animals, the human body, engineering, and Earth and space. Written by Tracy Turner, the book begins with small, easily observable numbers before building up to truly gigantic ones, like a nonillion, a tredecillion, a googol, and even ones too huge for names!

Includes an introduction by Kjartan Poskitt, author of the bestselling Murderous Math series.

Author Bio

Tracey Turner has written more than 70 books, most of them for children, on subjects including inventions, the universe, famous writers, and deadly perils. She is the author of Kingfisher's How Many Mice Make an Elephant? and The Curious Book of Lists. She also commissioned and edited the Horrible Histories series for many years.

Jen Khatun is an illustrator of Bangladeshi/Indian heritage who grew up in the UK. She has published works with Bramble Kids Books, Pushkin Press, Walker Books, and exhibited at The Brighton & Hove Museum. She is inspired by natural surroundings, her favorite childhood stories, and the hidden magical moments found in everyday life.

How Many Mice Make an Elephant?

And Other Big Questions About Size and Distance

by Tracey Turner, illustrated by Aaron Cushley

An original approach to math by stealth that makes the tricky concepts of size and distance fun and easy to understand.

How Many Mice Make an Elephant? And Other Big Questions about Size and Distance* introduces children to this tricky math concept in a fun, relatable way.

Fantastically written by Tracey Turner, questions such as "How many high jumps to the moon?" and "How many ice cubes make an iceberg?" get children to think about just how high, how big, and how far things are, as well as teaching them the math to work it out! The logic behind each comparison is explained in clear, simple steps for readers to follow, helping them to reach the answer. Beautiful illustrations by Aaron Cushley couldn't be further from a math text book, making learning math a truly fun experience.

Includes an introduction by Kjartan Poskitt, author of the bestselling Murderous Math series.

She Shoots, She Scores!

A Celebration of Women's Soccer

by Clarke, Catherine, illustrated by Sarah Long

Written by acclaimed YA novelist Cat Clarke and with a foreword by England captain Steph Houghton, She Shoots, She Scores! tells the empowering story of how women's soccer has become one of the fastest-growing sports in the world - and is sure to inspire the next generation of female soccer superstars.

Young soccer fans will discover how the early female players overcame prejudice to set up their own teams, and read the compelling stories of players who beat the odds to become famous around the world: including Scotland's Rose Reilly, Asisat Oshoala from Nigeria, and Afghanistan's Nadia Nadim. The book is packed with facts and stats about the Women's World Cup and the Olympics, plus pocket profiles of the world's top players - from Marta to Megan Rapinoe - and record-breaking teams, including the US national women's team and Olympique Lyonnais. What's more, discover the key skills you'll need to become a great goalkeeper, a tough-tackling defender, or the world's next superstar striker!

Author Bio

Cat Clarke is the bestselling, award-winning author of six YA novels, including Letting Go and Girlhood. She was born in Zambia and brought up in Edinburgh and Yorkshire, which has given her an accent that tends to confuse people. Cat lives in Edinburgh with her partner, two ninja cats, and two decidedly non-ninja cocker spaniels. She likes cheese A LOT, especially baked camembert.

Sarah Long graduated from Cambridge School of Art in 2004. She started off her career at Caroline Gardner before moving into giftware, where she designed bags, ceramics, and textiles from initial concept to final product. This also involved working with licensors designing products for The Beatles and Moomins.

Basher Science Mini: Pandemic

by Tom Jackson

Pandemics have swept around the world for centuries, and now Covid-19 is the scary new kid in town, a real bully and a threat to the health, happiness, and livelihoods of people from every nation. Kids need real science information about the virus that has kept them away from school, kept their parents away from work, and may even have harmed or killed people they know and love. And they want information about how to deal with their feelings, too. The pandemic has brought sadness but it's also shown how resilient and adaptable humans are. The Basher mix of science and humor makes these difficult times less frightening by providing approachable and easily understandable information in a format kids know and love.

Basher's distinctive, colorful illustrations and Tom Jackson's lively engaging text will demystify pandemics, while informing kids about the coronavirus that has changed their lives.

Perfect for home or school, Basher's highly original books make difficult concepts tangible and understandable. Chatty first-person text and stylish, contemporary character illustrations give a voice, personality, and story to each topic - a brilliant way to communicate science.

Author Bio

Tom Jackson is a science writer based in Bristol, UK. Tom specialises in recasting science and technology into lively historical narratives. After almost 20 years of writing, Tom has uncovered a wealth of stories that help to bring technical content alive and create new ways of enjoying learning about science. In his time, Tom has been a zoo keeper, travel writer, buffalo catcher and filing clerk, but he now writes for adults and children, for books, magazines and TV.
