THE SPIRITED HOMES OF HUNT SLONEM

Brian D. Coleman • Photographs by John Neitzel
Foreword by Whoopi Goldberg • Preface by Hunt Slonem

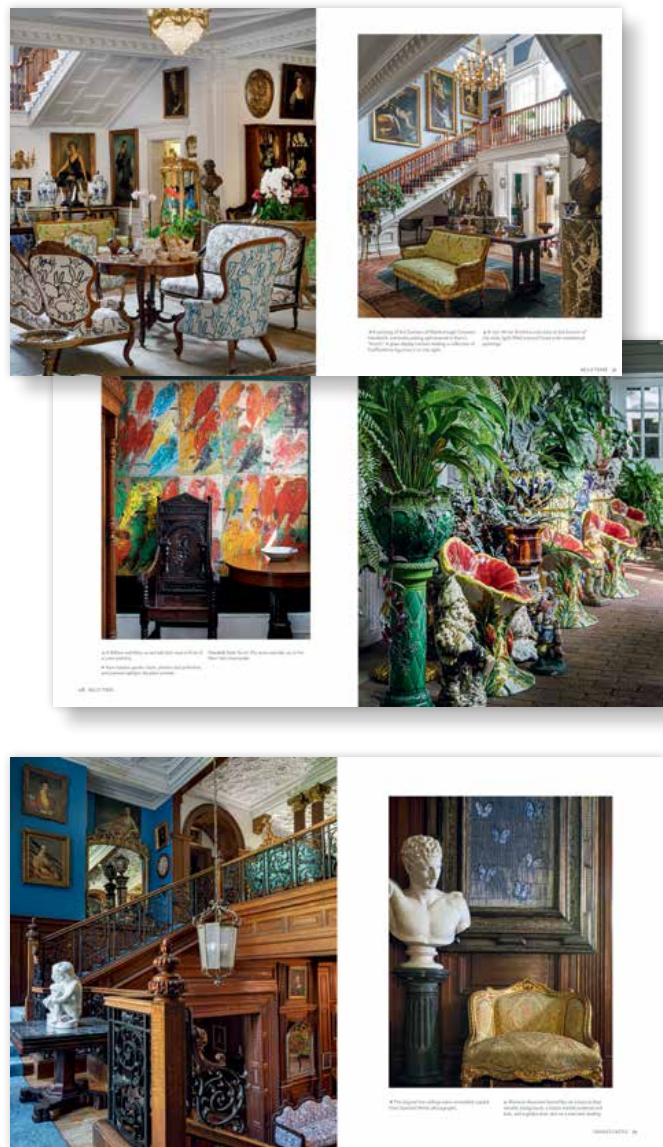

“My homes are my life’s work—making old houses into a new form of my art,” says Hunt Slonem in his preface. Extraordinary photography, capsule summaries of each building’s history, and a sprinkling of anecdotes open the doors to Slonem’s personal and creative world from a new perspective. This book about his idiosyncratic, maximalist interior design style—how he employs color, arranges an abundance of antique furniture, exhibits his personal art and objects, mixes antique art with his own contemporary works, and displays myriad collections—is awe-inspiring and inspirational. “More is more” is a fit adage for what this book reveals.

COWBOYS AND RODEOS

Alyn Robert Brereton

Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) photographer Alyn Robert Brereton offers both the beauty and the dirt of the western United States in Cowboys and Rodeos. This stunning coffee-table book is a piece of art, showcasing a working ranch in northern California, horses, cattle, tack, boots, buckles, cowgirls, cowboys, and rodeos. You will be awed at the rough-stock events—bareback bronc, saddle bronc, and bull riding—and how the cowboys stay on the animals, or not, shown in amazing images. The timed events—steer wrestling, tie-down roping, team roping, barrel racing, and breakaway roping—require precision and finesse from both the riders and the photographer.

THE FRIENDLY ANIMALS

A CHRISTMAS STORY

Illustrated by James Newman Gray

A sweet retelling of the first Christmas through the perspective of the animals in the barn who offered their own gifts to the baby Jesus. The Friendly Animals: A Christmas Story is taken from a centuries-old folk song now brightly and gently illustrated. This traditional Christmas story is perfect to read to small children during the holidays to teach about the nativity and the heartfelt gifts the animals at the manger gave to baby Jesus, sharing their kindness and love.

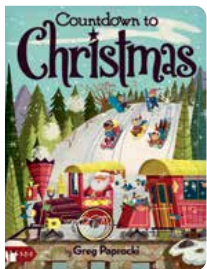

*Baby Jesus, sweet and good
was born in a stable made of wood.
The friendly animals around him stood,
Baby Jesus, sweet and good.*

Born and raised in Sheffield, England, JAMES NEWMAN GRAY studied illustration at Wolverhampton University after a childhood spent sketching and painting. He went on to have a long career as an in-house illustrator for several greeting card publishers, including Hallmark cards, working on branded characters and also on original illustration. Over the years, this taught him to develop many different styles and to work in many different media. Although a large part of James's illustrations are done digitally now, he still likes to do line-art in his sketchpad and get the paints out and make marks.

Luis San Vicente

Huesos is Abuelo's four-legged travieso, a rambunctious troublemaker with a constant ball of energy and a big bite. Nothing and no one is safe from Huesos' mischief and chomping teeth, from Grandpa's slippers to the neighborhood's mailman. Until one day, Calaca Pascuala knocks on his door and takes him on a journey through the afterworld. But even there, Huesos can't contain himself. Will he be able to knock, tumble, and chew his way back to Grandpa, or will he begin to create new forms of chaos from beyond the grave?

“Along the way, the author dishes out tidbits of design musts: don’t forget ‘the fifth wall’—the ceiling; ‘conversation starters’ are key; one should choose colors by ‘proceed[ing] directly to your closet or armoire.’ The photos are stunning, and the variety of homes will have readers looking to shake things up. Those ready for a break from neutral interiors need look no further.”

Readers can learn much from Wentz’s book, even if these homes and renovations are beyond their budget. A complete list of sources for furnishings, wall coverings, and textiles is included.”

At Home on the Water
“Conry celebrates seaside homes in this colorful collection. Many of the projects’ architects share thoughts on their process, which is a nice look behind the curtain, and the photography is superb. The collection’s strength is in its eclectic mix of homes—there’s ‘a lean rustic barn’ in Connecticut, a Spanish Colonial in Florida, even an ‘unassuming’ exterior that reveals ‘much more’ up close in Massachusetts. This one offers plenty for design buffs to savor.”

Lodge
“Among the intriguing historical notes are Theodore Roosevelt’s two post-presidential visits to the Grand Canyon’s ‘curative’ El Tovar Hotel, which perhaps allowed him to ‘detox from one of the world’s most thankless jobs.’
Lodge also features splendid photographs to accompany its site descriptions, depicting star-studded skies, stunning lake views, rustic firesides, and parchment lantern chandeliers. A witty, savvy, and welcoming national parts pictorial, Lodge spotlights the beautiful harmony between dwellings and natural wonders.”

Garden Secrets of Bunny Mellon
“Previously unpublished photographs and journal musings from the archive of gardening designer Rachel ‘Bunny’ Lambert Mellon (1910–2014) are beautifully paired. Mellon’s journals stress the importance of note-taking (believing that happenstance observations can be one’s ‘greatest teachers’), long-term planning, and working with the ‘bones’ of a garden. Celebrating Mellon’s life and legacy, this intimate rendering evokes nostalgia and adds nuance and depth to the public portrait of a late, great gardener.”

Backyard Homesteader
“Candlin offers a realist’s take on living off the land in this no-nonsense manual. Candlin doesn’t hold hands or cheerlead, but rather equips readers with solid information devoid of romantic illusions: ‘The sweat and toil of clearing the land is hard but satisfying work.’ Readers thinking about taking the plunge into homesteading will find this to be an excellent resource.”

Little Leonardo's™ Fascinating World of Engineering “Through this entertaining and informative introduction to the vital and diverse field of engineering, children will be inspired to build, design, invent,
and discover, all while learning about the amazing creations and contributions of civil,
chemical, electrical, computer,
aeronautical, biomedical,
systems, and industrial engineers.
Colorful, detailed illustrations highlight the impact and significance of each division with fun, relatable scenarios, encouraging children to imagine themselves blasting off into outer space, interacting with robots, or constructing entire cities.”

Ordinary Equality
“Kelly has an eye for interesting details and a gift for phrasemaking. Who knew that the Fugitive Slave Act has the distinction of being ‘the first and only time the Founders used the pronoun ‘she’ in the Constitution’? Or that the contribution to women’s suffrage of Matilda Joslyn Gage, who began as a teenage abolitionist, was erased by ‘Mean Girl’ Susan B. Anthony? A fun, vibrant work perfectly suited to its intended audience: a potential new generation of ERA activists.”

The past year saw some important firsts for Gibbs Smith. We completed the employee purchase of the company from founders Gibbs and Catherine Smith. We also became a certified B Corporation (B Corp), joining a growing group of companies reinventing business by pursuing purpose as well as profit. Gibbs Smith was certified by B Lab as having met rigorous social and environmental standards, representing its commitment to goals outside shareholder profit.

We are part of a community of over 6,200 businesses globally certified as B Corps. The B Corp community in the U.S., representing a broad cross-section of industries and sizes, includes well-known brands such as Cotopaxi®, Bookshop.org, Coursera®, and Bombas®.

Certification shows that we adhere to the highest standards of social and environmental performance, transparency, and accountability.

We envision a global economy that uses business as a force for good. The B Corporation is purpose-driven and creates benefit for all stakeholders, not just shareholders. As leaders in this emerging economy we believe that:

- We must be the change we seek in the world.
- All business ought to be conducted as if people and place mattered.
- Through our products, practices, and profits, we should aspire to do no harm and to benefit all.
- To do so requires that we act with the understanding that we are each dependent upon another and thus responsible for each other and future generations.

Our stakeholders include, but are not limited to: sales representatives, retailers and wholesalers, the book and education industries, end consumers, trade shows, printers, etc. We realize we are dependent on each other for continued success.

Here are some ways we are industry leaders as a B Corp:

- Offering an unlimited time off policy for our employee-owners.
- Our physical office facilities, business travel, production/printing, and outbound shipping are all carbon neutral.
- We are majority female owned.
- We give back to local communities with in-kind charitable donations and by giving our time and skills to help them thrive.

With the mission “To Enrich and Inspire Humankind,” being a certified B Corp is a perfect fit for us. We will begin adding the certified B Corp logo on our products and messaging. We invite you to share this message with other stakeholders. Thank you for joining us in being a force for change in the world.

Gibbs Smith is a 100% employee-owned, B Corp-certified independent publisher and distributor. We believe in using business as a force for good. We positively impact the communities we serve, including employee owners, local communities, the book and education industries, and the planet.
