A note from the publisher .....

Dear Reader,

I can only hope that you are coming through the never-ending year of Covid with minimal unwelcome challenges.

At first, things were a bit rough. But you—our readers, customers, and supporters—made it all better. More than ever before, you wanted Second Story titles. In the midst of all the difficulties, our books about women and girls, social justice, and human rights were being read in record numbers. Books by Indigenous writers led the way, with refugee, Holocaust, and stories from Canada's diverse communities all in high demand. Our first book by a woman with Down syndrome was a gift both to us and to you.

We are truly excited by the spring list and like to think everyone can find something to their taste. Governor-General nominee Shenaaz Nanji has a new chapter book for young readers; a magical story about Ojibwe Horses in both Ojibwe and English will be a treasure for picture-book readers, as will the story of a child whose parents fight "like cats and dogs." There are two compelling novels for teens and two works of nonfiction for adults; one questions why women political leaders in Canada have never been elected for a second term and is published with the Feminist History Society, and the other focuses on an older woman's passion for cold-water, year-round swimming. Spring 2022 also marks the 20th anniversary of the much-beloved and acclaimed Hana's Suitcase by Karen Levine—Canada's most-awarded children's book, translated worldwide into dozens of languages. Take a look through this catalogue to find exciting voices—some familiar, others new, but all worth your attention.

We hope you will contact us if we can be of assistance, and don't forget to support bookstores and the wonderful people who work in our libraries and schools.

Runs with the Stars/ Wiijibamatoon-anangoonan

WRITTEN BY DARCY WHITECROW
AND HEATHER M. O'CONNOR
ILLUSTRATED BY LENNY LISHCHENKO
TRANSLATED BY KELVIN MORRISON

"Elders say they were always here. The horses were small, but strong."

"Like me?"

"Like you."

As they await the birth of a new foal, a man teaches his grandchild about the Ojibwe Horses that used to roam the forests of Northwestern Ontario. The horses once ran wild and free, but when Grandfather was a boy, they almost disappeared. Now he is the caretaker of his own small herd, keeping the breed alive for future generations and teaching his grandchild about the loving bond between humans and animals.

Based on the true story of the once almost-extinct Ojibwe Horse, this story of conservation and care highlights the importance of stewardship and the invaluable efforts of Indigenous people to preserve this beautiful breed.

DARCY WHITECROW is Ojibwe and Dakota; he is a member of the Seine River First Nation band in Northwestern Ontario, where he lives. Darcy practices traditional lifestyles like trapping, fishing, and ricing, as well as traditional spirituality in both the Midewiwin and Sundance traditions. He and his partner, Kim, started a non-profit called Grey Raven Ranch where they have been raising and caring for Ojibwe Horses for the past decade to help preserve the breed and the tradition of symbiotic interaction with the Ojibwe people.

HEATHER M. O'CONNOR is an award-winning children's author and freelance writer based in Peterborough, Ontario. She first learned about Ojibwe Horses while writing for the Ontario Parks blog and quickly became obsessed.

LENNY LISHCHENKO is not a boy. She is an illustrator, graphic designer, and comics maker who will never give up the chance to draw a good birch tree. Ukrainian-born and Canadian-raised, she's interested in telling stories that people remember years later in the early mornings, when everything is quiet and still. She is based out of Burlington, Ontario.

Like Cats and Dogs

WRITTEN BY MÉLANIE PERREAULT

ILLUSTRATED BY MARION ARBONA

TRANSLATED BY CHANTAL BILODEAU

I have two houses, but only one heart.

Rosalie's parents fight like cats and dogs, even now that they're divorced. It's hard going from one house to another and knowing that although she loves them both, her parents just don't get along anymore. But there's one thing her mom and dad do agree on: they both love Rosalie, and Rosalie is here to stay!

Nominated for a Governor General's Literary Award in its original French edition (Rosalie entre chien et chat), this exquisitely illustrated book comforts children in a stressful situation, reassuring them that their parents' love remains unchanged no matter what their family structure looks like. Thoughtful and optimistic, this is a fresh take on a divorce book.

MÉLANIE PERREAULT has published more than twenty books for children. Rosalie entre chien et chat was nominated for six literary awards including a Governor General's Literary Award. Conveying the joy of reading has always been at the heart of her pursuits. She has been the Editorial Director at Les Éditions Pierre Tisseyre since 2004, and lives in Montreal with her family.

MARION ARBONA started working as an illustrator for children's books after obtaining a diploma in film animation at Les Arts Décoratifs de Paris. She has been awarded several illustration prizes in the USA and in Canada where she lived for 10 years. She returned to live in Paris in 2015.

Alina in a Pinch

WRITTEN BY SHENAAZ NANJI

Moving to a new city means Alina has to make new friends, and nothing is worse than lunch at a new school. When her grandmother visits, Alina is inspired to help her cook the delicious Afro-Indian meals she's always loved, but a cruel note from a mysterious lunchtime bully leaves a bitter taste that even Nani's excellent cooking can't erase.

With an audition for Junior Chef fast approaching and Nani's wise lessons helping her, can Alina embrace her heritage and convince her classmates that being different is a good thing? This sweet story of courage and cooking is perfect for readers venturing into chapter books.

SHENAAZ NANJI is an internationally published author with twelve award-winning novels, short stories, and picture books. She holds an MFA in Writing from Vermont College. Her novel, Child of Dandelions, was a finalist for the Governor General's award in Children's Literature. Born in Kenya, she now lives in Calgary.

Wish upon a Satellite

WRITTEN BY SOPHIE LABELLE

Ciel and their friends are growing up, and there are big challenges ahead.

The glaciers are melting and the climate crisis is on their mind, but nothing shakes the foundations of non-binary teen Ciel's world more than sharing an unexpected kiss with their best friend, Stephie. Everything they thought was clear is suddenly all mixed up—and that's without the new problems at school: sexting, peer pressure, and overdue book reports.

In this new book for teens, Sophie Labelle's beloved characters first introduced in Ciel and Ciel in All Directions are leaving childhood behind and grappling with new questions of identity, loyalty, and how to negotiate dating and relationships in the age of social media.

SOPHIE LABELLE is an internationally renowned visual artist and author from the South Shore of Montreal. She is the transgender cartoonist behind Assigned Male, a webcomic about a group of queer and trans teenagers that has been running since 2014 and has touched millions of readers. She lives in Finland.

Rachel Bird

WRITTEN BY BECKY CITRA

Sometimes family can surprise you.

Rachel and her little sister, Jane, are spending the summer with two strangers who happen to be their grandparents. Up until their mom's death a few months ago, Rachel didn't know these people existed, and now she's been packed off to the family ranch in the interior of British Columbia—a place with mountains, lakes, and zero cell service.

But her newfound family isn't the only secret that's been kept from her. Why did their mother leave her family so many years ago? Why does their grandpa stay hidden away in his room, and what happened to their Uncle Jimmy? And the biggest question mark of all: who was the mysterious Stephanie?

Once Rachel shines a light into the ranch's dark corners, nothing will ever be the same again.

BECKY CITRA is the author of 23 award-winning books for children. She lives on a ranch in British Columbia and spends the winters on Salt Spring Island. A retired school teacher, she enjoys connecting with children through library and school visits.

Growing Old, Going Cold

Notes on Swimming, Aging, and Finishing Last

WRITTEN BY KATHLEEN MCDONNELL

As she aged, Kathleen McDonnell discovered her secret superpower: swimming in cold water.

What is it about freezing cold water that draws people in? Throughout history, humans have gravitated to cold-water swimming and celebrated its healing properties, calling it the secret to good health and serenity. Today, cold water swimmers gather in groups from Galway to Georgian Bay to jump into frigid waters for fun, competition, and even as a form of activism and protest.

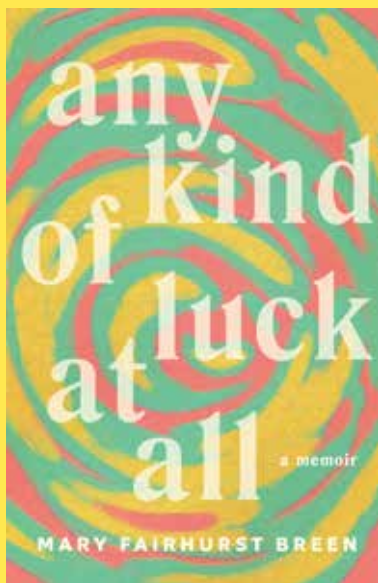

Kathleen McDonnell started swimming in Lake Ontario, infamous for its chilly depths, because it was close to home. As time went on she began to rely on a daily dip, even breaking through winter ice to raise her spirits and refresh her body. In this wide-ranging memoir, McDonnell shares her love of cold-water swimming and the lessons she has learned from a slow and steady commitment to the waves.

"A thought-provoking and entertaining memoir." —The Winnipeg Free Press

In her bittersweet memoir Mary Fairhurst Breen sketches scenes from a life darkened by four generations of mental illness and addiction, where despite the odds, her sense of humor and willingness to practice "radical acceptance" see her through the chaos to a life full of friends, art, and the joys of being a grandmother. This is a journey of awakening and activism, and a portrait of a life to be celebrated in all its complexity.

A FEMINIST HISTORY SOCIETY BOOK

No Second Chances

Women and Political Power in Canada

WRITTEN BY KATE GRAHAM

Women don't win re-election. Why? Because in Canadian politics, there are no second chances.

As of September 2021, only thirteen women had reached Canada's top political posts: elected or appointed provincial premier or prime minister. They have represented three major political parties and served across provinces and territories from coast to coast to coast. But, as professor and provincial candidate Kate Graham discovered, there are concerning similarities in their stories: women tend to reach the top only in challenging political circumstances; they last in the top job for about half as long as men do; and, when they run for re-election, they lose.

No Second Chances shares the stories of the rise and fall of women in Canada's most senior political roles and examines the obstacles that prevent more women from reaching for and achieving these goals. Based on interviews conducted for the Canada 2020 No Second Chances podcast, Graham provides readers with a rare glimpse into the lives of female political leaders from the perspectives of the women who know this story best.

KATE GRAHAM researches, writes, speaks, and teaches about politics in Canada. She holds a PhD in Political Science and teaches in the Political Science Departments at Western and Huron University College. Kate is the creator and host of No Second Chances (NoSecondChances.ca), a Canada 2020 podcast about the rise and fall of women in Canada's most senior political roles—a project which inspired her own political pursuits, and this book. Kate lives with her partner, Jesse, and daughter, Flora, in London, Ontario.

Hana's Suitcase Celebrates its 20th Anniversary!

Twenty years after its initial publication, Hana's Suitcase has become an international phenomenon, sold in over 40 countries and dozens of languages around the world. In 2022, Hana's Suitcase celebrates its 20th anniversary after years of receiving global recognition and awards, being adapted for stage and screen, and touching the hearts of children and adults from all walks of life.

The extraordinary true story that brings the history of the Holocaust to life for young readers.

From the foreword by Nobel Peace Prize winner Desmond Tutu: "How extraordinary that this humble suitcase has enabled children all over the world to learn through Hana's story the terrible history of what happened and that it continues to urge them to heed the warnings of history."

In the spring of 2000, Fumiko Ishioka, the curator of a small Holocaust education center for children in Tokyo, received a shipment from the Auschwitz Museum for an exhibit she was planning. Among the artifacts—all connected to the experience of children at the camp—she received an empty suitcase. Fumiko was captivated by the writing on the outside that identified its owner: Hana Brady, May 16, 1931, Waisenkind (the German word for orphan).

Based on an award-winning CBC documentary, Hana's Suitcase takes the reader on an incredible journey full of mystery and memories as Fumiko Ishioka searches through history, from present-day Japan, Europe, and North America back to 1938 Czechoslovakia in search of the life of young Hana Brady.
