PATINA HOMES & GARDENS

Steve Giannetti & Brooke Giannetti

In exquisite photographs and personal stories, Patina Homes & Gardens features seven homes designed by Steve and Brooke Giannetti. The Giannettis' reverence for history, a deep connection to nature, and a sense of comfort converge to shape the character of each distinctive home, whether it's a seaside villa, a Tudor estate, a new Southern manor, a Spanish revival remodel, an estate inspired by West Virginia roots, or an English cottage. Each home is unique, beautifully appointed, has its own personality, and is highly functional for the families who live there.

The Giannettis invite readers to follow their story of a new life near the small town of Leipers Fork, Tennessee, featuring their 1850s-era log cabin homestead remodeled in the signature Patina style and surrounded by beautiful gardens.

Admired for their creation of artfully designed houses, STEVE GIANNETTI and BROOKE GIANNETTI are celebrated for their signature Patina style. Steve, an acclaimed architect, seamlessly combines various architectural influences, drawing from historic styles while infusing them with a modern sense of space. Brooke, an interior designer, adeptly blends antiques with a palette inspired by the natural world. Through the blog Velvet and Linen and numerous publications, the Giannettis have amassed a dedicated following inspired by their design and life philosophy. Their four bestselling books—Patina Style (2011), Patina Farm (2016), Patina Living (2019), and Patina Homes (2021)—chronicle the evolution of their journey through California, designing homes and creating dreams. Visit their website, www.patinahomeandgarden.com. The Giannettis live near Leipers Fork, TN.

Zandra Zuraw

Slow Style is a new way of practicing the art of decoration. Slow Style is about honoring our personal histories and our dreams for the future in our homes. For example, incorporating antiques, handmade objects, and items that relate to our heritage and culture connect us to the past and help tell our story. Zandra Zuraw teaches principles and shows how to execute them in your home, starting simply and then layering or changing as your style evolves.

CALIFORNIA COASTAL

Heather Sandy Hebert and Chase Reynolds Ewald

The California Coast is an iconic landscape, conveying ideas of endless sunshine, pristine beaches, swaying palm trees, epic waves, and sinuous curving roads clinging to dramatic cliffs along a rugged coastline. Scenically rich and teeming with wildlife, California is also known for its laid-back, nature-forward, indoor-outdoor lifestyle. This is epitomized in the architecture and design of eighteen homes featured in the book, which speaks to the coastline's special qualities—as well as its distinct hazards. The projects are organized into Northern Coast, Central Coast, and Southern Coast. Architectural styles range from traditional to modern, with added variety in the form of rustic modern, small-format bungalow, and renovations of existing buildings.

MAKE YOURSELF AT HOME

A GUIDE TO DECORATING WITH HEIRLOOMS AND ANTIQUES THAT TELL STORIES

Chelsey Brown

Heirlooms and antiques are our time capsules into the past, and visually stand the test of time. Whether it's your grandmother's diary, the silver pocket watch, or that thrifted armoire that didn't even get passed down within your own family, these items bear witness to the lives (and loves) that came before us. In her conversational, chatty style, Chelsey Brown advocates embracing the emotional ties and historical narratives these pieces represent. By valuing and preserving heirlooms and antiques, we not only ensure that their stories endure, but we create homes that tell a story of those who live inside. We're designing unique spaces where you feel something and don't just look like every other home you see.

DAFFODILS

BEAUTIFUL VARIETIES FOR HOME AND GARDEN

Naomi Slade • Photographs by Georgianna Lane

In Daffodils, leading garden writer Naomi Slade explores the intriguing history of the genus Narcissus along with its growing and care. Renowned floral photographer Georgianna Lane reveals the breadth of daffodil varieties in a range of breathtaking solid colors and multicolored and ruffled combinations of salmon, pink, peach, orange, and white.

Daffodils are easy to grow as garden plants or container specimens, and their bulbs multiply year after year. Indoors they add brightness and cheer as cut flowers in home arrangements, wedding bouquets, and even large-scale event decor. Gracing springtime flower beds and grassy meadows, these cheerful trumpet flowers are plants of poetic inspiration and mythic renown, rich with perfume and infused with optimism.

Marilee Joy Mayfield • Illustrated by Annabel Spencely

Moo asks his best friend, Oink, to help him paint a barn, and Oink is glad to help. When Moo discovers that Oink has painted his side with polka dots, he worries because barns are supposed to be red. Her passion has always been stories that inspire children to develop into kind, empathetic adults. Her books have sold over one million copies and have been translated into six different languages. ANNABEL SPENCELY'S career began with a degree in Fashion, followed by a Masters in Illustration. Her first job was in a publisher's studio doing coloring books and encyclopedias. Then she went freelance with children's books. She prefers to work alone with her pencils and paints and she likes the feel of actual paint and paper, incorporating the accidental into her work. For her, inspiration can come from anywhere: magazine snippings, TV, random animals, random things in general, cat videos.
