The Warmest Blanket in the World

WRITTEN BY TAMARA LEVINE,
ILLUSTRATED BY ELLIE ARSCOTT

How can Frida help keep Ama warm?

Frida loves spending time with her great-grandmother, Ama, and listening to her inspiring stories of activism. Ama believes in helping people, especially children and families. But Ama has one big problem. She is always cold. Her fingers feel like ice cubes, and sometimes, she feels like she lives inside a refrigerator. Frida has to do something to help, just like Ama taught her. With the help of a kind person named Tanis, and a special kind of wool called qiviut, Frida finds the perfect way to keep Ama warm!

Inspired by Tamara Levine's mother, Helen Levine, a well-known Canadian feminist and activist.

Qiviut wool, from muskox, is one of the warmest in the world. Inuit people have long harvested it, and the Tanis mentioned in the story is based on a real-life woman named Tanis Simpson who runs the 100% Inuit-owned Qiviut Inc. mill in Alberta.

Year of the Carrot

WRITTEN BY MADELEINE HART

Defend the carrots!

Leonie MacGregor is sick of carrots. Who wouldn't be if you grew up on a carrot farm? But Leo's dad is obsessed with them. He breeds carrots the way some people breed prized poodles.

Leo suspects someone is after her dad's one-of-a-kind carrot seeds. With the help of her best friend Sara, Leo narrows down the suspects. Is it their organic farmer neighbor who everyone calls "the Hippie"? Or maybe spies sent by the government who think her dad's special carrots might really be worth something! Even though Leo has lots of things to do on the farm—like fixing her super awesome dirt bike—it's up to her to save her dad's carrots!

MADELEINE HART is an author and both a writer and creative director in the video game industry. She and her partner are in the process of building their home in cottage country. She loves canoeing, dancing like no one's watching, and lemon-lime popsicles.

Like a Bird

WRITTEN BY BECKY CITRA

The smoke has lifted again. It's playing a game with us.

A year ago, Rachel Bird hated living in small-town Aspen Lake. She and her little sister, Jane, had just moved in with grandparents she never even knew they had. But this summer looks very different. Rachel has a best friend, a boyfriend, and she gets to ride her horse, Magic. They are all sweltering under a heat dome, and though Rachel's heard about the dangerous wildfires, they all seem very far away.

Then the grass turns yellow and Rachel smells smoke all the time. Just when she was finally letting herself settle in, her new home threatens to go up in smoke. Worse, her grandfather refuses to leave the ranch. If the fires reach Aspen Lake, will Rachel and her family be able to make it out in time? And what will happen to everything they leave behind?

BECKY CITRA is the author of twenty-three award-winning books for children and teens, including Rachel Bird, winner of The Whippoorwill Award. A retired school teacher, she enjoys connecting with children through library and school visits. She lives on a ranch in British Columbia and spends the winters on Saltspring Island.

Women Who Woke up the Law

WRITTEN BY KARIN WELLS

Behind every "landmark case" is a woman with a story.

"Who was the woman trying to convince a jury in a tiny courthouse in Nova Scotia that it was self-defense when she killed her partner; and who was the young woman walking into the palais de justice in small-town Quebec arguing that it was her choice, not his, to have an abortion? What was it that pushed these women on, even when the lawyers said it was hopeless?"

From the award-winning author of The Abortion Caravan and More Than a Footnote, Karin Wells once again pulls us into the lives—and this time, the legal trials—of a group of women integral to the advancement of women's rights in Canada. Eliza Campbell, Chantale Daigle, Jeannette Corbiere Lavell—these women often had no idea what they were facing in the courts or the price they would have to pay. Some never saw justice themselves, but they left a legal legacy. Their bold determination is something we need now more than ever to guard the hard-won gains in women's rights.

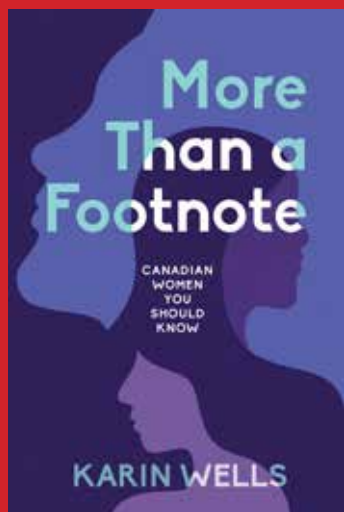

KARIN WELLS is a well-known CBC radio documentarian and a lawyer. Her books tell the often-overlooked stories of remarkable Canadian women, including The Abortion Caravan, shortlisted for the Shaughnessy Cohen Prize for Political Writing, and More Than a Footnote. Karin lives in Port Hope, Ontario.

Bernice and the Georgian Bay Gold

Written by Jessica Outram

★ 2024 SHORTLISTED FOR THE GEOFFREY BILSON AWARD FOR HISTORICAL FICTION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE!

It's the summer of 1914, and eight-year-old Bernice lives with her family in a lighthouse on Georgian Bay. One day, she finds a treasure map pointing to gold on a nearby island. Inspired by her beloved Mémèr's stories of their Métis family's adventures, Bernice sets out in a rowboat with the map and her dogs, determined to find the treasure.

"A treasure map sparks a coastal Canadian Métis eight-year-old's search for gold in an exuberant, richly detailed novel from a Métis author sharing her family's fictionalized history.... A sweet historical fiction pick for fans of well-intentioned young protagonists with enlightening Indigenous representation." —Booklist
