

twirl Turning Heads, Shaping Minds since 2014

Dear friends,

Hooray! Spring 2024 marks Twirl's 10-year anniversary!

A decade ago, in early 2014, Twirl launched into the world with five carefully selected titles, and over the years we have continued to build this catalog with passion. We've proudly published nearly 200 children's books. Each and every one exudes Twirl's unique blend of captivating French design, interactive fun, and thoughtful, informational content.

We're proud to say that Twirl books have received praise and accolades from booksellers, librarians, media and influencers, parents, and—most important—children. We never tire of hearing how much you love Twirl. With 10 years under our belt and nearly 3.5 million copies distributed around the world, our team wants to take this moment to thank you.

Merci and thank you so much for displaying Twirl books in your bookstores and libraries, reading them in your classrooms and homes, and fostering the love of books and reading among the next generation. We appreciate all that you do, and we look forward to bringing you many more great Twirl books in the future.

In celebration of this milestone anniversary, the Twirl team is proud to present a fresh new logo design featured here on this catalog and on all Twirl books starting in 2024. We hope you like it as much as we do!

Wishing you all the best,

The Twirl Team

Farm: Animals, Work, and Life

Do You Know?™

By Camille Babeau • Illustrated by Charlotte Ameling, H el ene Convert, Ilaria Falorsi, and Camille Roy

Where do farm animals live? How are plants grown? What types of tools and equipment do farmers use? Young readers will enjoy learning about all the activities that take place on a farm: planting fruits, vegetables, and grains; raising chickens and cows; and even shearing sheep! Each Do You Know?™ book includes labeled illustrations, thought-provoking information, review sections, and an index of key terms.

Who's the Boss?

By Émile Jadoul

"I'm the tallest!" "I'm the strongest!" "I'm the fastest!" "I'm the fiercest!" Uh-oh! Four animal friends—a tiger, a giraffe, an elephant, and a crocodile—have lots to say about who should be the boss. In this laugh-out-loud board book, they each try to get their way and cause a huge ruckus . . . until someone bigger, taller, and louder steps in to show them all who the real boss is! 🐾

What About™ series

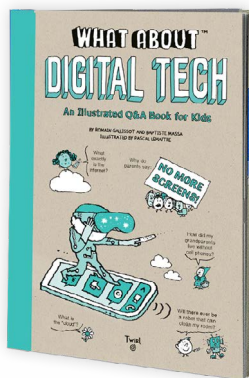

The What About™ series is a collection of nonfiction Q&A books made especially for curious kids who want to know everything there is to know about the world! Compiled from questions that real kids sent to Images Doc, a leading nonfiction children's magazine in France, the answers provided are straightforward and kid-friendly, and are accompanied by cartoonlike and humorous illustrations by popular children's artist Pascal Lemaître. The books, which are vetted by experts, cover a wide range of topics, including biology, physics, philosophy, and digital technology, and encourage young readers to think, learn, and keep asking questions! ☺

Peek inside a beehive through the openings!

What beautiful colors! The wings of the damselfly sparkle in the sun. Damselflies live close to ponds, pools, and other bodies of water. They feed on flies, mosquitoes, and beetles.

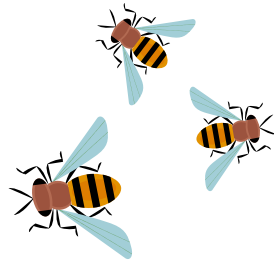

Laser cuts on every spread

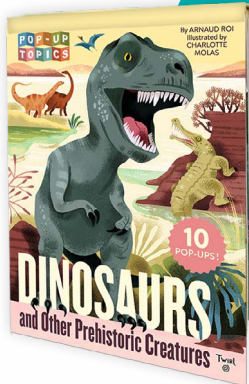

Ready to fly, the swallowtail flaps its wings a few times before letting the wind carry it into the air. The butterfly glides like a zebra, uses legs to gather food.

Fitting from flower to flower. It uses a long, thin tube called a proboscis to suck up nectar, its favorite food.

Fascinating facts!

Essential facts and compelling information

Quetzalcoatlus

- Period: Late Cretaceous (70 million to 66 million years ago)
- Region: North America
- Maximum size: 39-foot (12-meter) wingspan
- Maximum weight: 441 pounds (200 kilogram)

The Quetzalcoatlus was not a dinosaur, but a type of flying reptile known as a pterosaur. While it was large, it had hollow bones and a small body, which made it light enough to fly. The Quetzalcoatlus had a rigid neck that measured nearly 10 feet (3 meters) in length and a long, toothless jaw. Scientists believe it swooped down to catch fish from the water and walked on the ground to snap up small dinosaurs.

Dear friends,

Mindful of the world we are building for future generations, Twirl and its parent company, Bayard Group, have been working to continuously reduce our carbon footprint and improve our impact on forest resources. We have at our disposal tools to select our partners in the entire book production chain on environmental, social, and economic criteria, and thus guarantee more ecologically responsible purchasing.

Below are just a few of the many practices we have adopted as part of this commitment:

- Our manufacturing teams look for paper with lower carbon dioxide emissions, as paper manufacturing has a strong impact on the carbon footprint of books.
- Editorial and sales teams keep the environment in mind as they make design choices: adjusting print runs, and choosing optimized formats and/or more easily recyclable embellishments.

- The paper on which we print our books comes from sustainably managed forests or is PEFC- or FSC-labeled.

- For our fabric toy and bath books, we prefer reinforced, recyclable cardboard packaging. The recycling of our packaging material is an important part of the sustainability of the industry. Paper material can be recycled up to five times.

- Whenever possible, we have chosen to replace single-use plastic and packaging with paper or cardboard. However, a few of our books need to be protected with plastic film—the risk being that damaged books will be scrapped and destroyed, which would contribute to greater waste.

Our commitment is ongoing, and we are making new and better choices each year. Thank you for your support and encouragement.
