My Big Book of Happy Sounds

By Marion Cocklico

Tweet tweet . . . Kiss . . . Clap clap . . . Purr . . .
 Many things we hear can bring us joy! My Big Book of Happy Sounds introduces young readers to sounds that make us smile, both everyday ones—like a bird singing or a door opening—and those heard on special occasions (“Happy birthday!”). Each of the 20 buttons on the panel provides multiple sounds and words. By learning to identify the sounds, budding readers develop their listening and observation skills, as well as their vocabulary. 🎧

A vibrant, cartoon-style illustration of a brown long-necked dinosaur (sauropod) standing in a lush prehistoric landscape. The dinosaur is shown in profile, facing left, with its long neck extended upwards to reach the leaves of a tall, green tree. Its mouth is open, showing pink tongue and teeth, as it eats. The background features rolling green hills, several other green trees of varying sizes, and distant, light-colored mountains under a clear blue sky. In the foreground, there are small green ferns and plants. A large, bright orange circle is positioned in the upper right corner, containing the word 'Backlist' in white, bold, sans-serif font.

Édouard Manceau

Édouard Manceau is the award-winning creator of more than 100 books for children. A graduate of the École Supérieure des Beaux-Arts d'Angers in visual communications, he was inspired to create books for children when he realized that they were interested in his art. His modern, amusing, and playful books have since found their way into the hearts of hundreds of children around the world. He often visits schools to talk about the power of books and the importance of being a reader. He divides his time between Toulouse and Paris, France.

“A powerful tool to use in opening up conversations with your toddlers about feelings.”

Red Canoe Reader

How Are You?

Simple yet deeply touching, How Are You? gently reassures children that it's okay to express their feelings by encouraging them to identify their emotions, communicate with others, and gain awareness and peace. This book is perfect for starting a healthy dialogue and promoting social and emotional learning among children and caregivers. 🐦

Essential facts and compelling information

Quetzalcoatlus

- Period: Late Cretaceous (70 million to 66 million years ago)
- Region: North America
- Maximum size: 39-foot (12-meter) wingspan
- Maximum weight: 441 pounds (200 kilograms)

The Quetzalcoatlus was not a dinosaur, but a type of flying reptile known as a pterosaur. While it was large, it had hollow bones and a small body, which made it light enough to fly. The Quetzalcoatlus had a rigid neck that measured nearly 10 feet (3 meters) in length and a long, toothless jaw. Scientists believe it swooped down to catch fish from the water and walked on the ground to snap up small dinosaurs.

The Pop-Up Guide™ series

Dramatic scenes leap off the pages of the books in the Pop-Up Guide™ series, providing young readers with a front-row view of landscapes both familiar and new. Whether the pages feature global landmarks, vehicles on a highway, or the launch of a rocket, the multilayered 3-D representations capture children’s imaginations and encourage them to find out more. Each book features big pop-ups and includes accessible information, as well as elastic bands that allow readers to display their favorite pages. €

What About™ series

The What About™ series is a collection of nonfiction Q&A books made especially for curious kids who want to know everything there is to know about the world! Compiled from questions that real kids sent to Images Doc, a leading nonfiction children's magazine in France, the answers provided are straightforward and kid-friendly, and are accompanied by cartoonlike and humorous illustrations by popular children's artist Pascal Lemaître. The books, which are vetted by experts, cover a wide range of topics, including biology, physics, philosophy, and digital technology, and encourage young readers to think, learn, and keep asking questions! 📧
