Get ready to roll your way to victory in this fun tumbling game! Impress your fellow players with your skills as you roll tortoises across the garden to score. You can piece together the jigsaw-style garden scene cards in a different way each time you play, so no two games are ever the same. How and where your tortoises land determines how many points you win, so you'll want to work out your best tumbling technique as quickly as you can. But be careful not to land on your back—that would be extremely embarrassing! The first player to earn 500 points is the winner and is crowned Top Tortoise Tumbler. Playing solo? Beat your own score in five turns!

Draw, memorize, or bluff your way to victory! There's three ways to play in this party game: drawing, seeing, or saying. Players roll the dice and take a category card that matches the color shown on the dice. Pink means the player needs to draw one of the two prompts (easy or hard) for the other players to guess. Yellow means the player tries to memorize and then recall the color of one of the symbols on the card. Green tests bluffing skills, with the player trying to convince the others whether or not they're being truthful about what's on the card. The game ends when any player has collected three cards of each color, and the player with the most points is the winner!

Grab your friends (this game is definitely NSFW!) and compete FTW by creating the wildest and wittiest acronyms. abbreviations, and initialisms. Reveal the Topic-it could be a familiar situation, wacky concept, or heartfelt (or not!) emotion—and draw the number of Letter cards shown. TW: Players might reveal TMI as they fill in the blanks. The tricky bit? You have to use all the letters to make your Wacronym, but the good news is you choose the order. Everyone writes a Wacronym on the answer pad and gives it to the judge. Only the judge can decide who played a GG, but IOO the more people LOL at your answer, the more likely you are to win.
